Sponsors will receive the exposure articulated above, but sponsorship does not grant you the opportunity to pitch your product or service in front of attendees outside of expo area. Sponsors must understand that, from the attendees' perspective, one of the things that makes REBarCamp so great is that it's a pitch-free zone. They want (and need) to be able to learn in a pressure-free environment. You can't beat this kind of marketing exposure and positive brand recognition!
